Philosophy of Science and Epistemology

27 – 28 June 2024
HKUST

This conference aims to explore fruitful ways of integrating philosophy of science and epistemology by promoting dialogues between philosophers of science and epistemologists.

Featuring 24 talks by leading epistemologists and philosophers of science from 12 countries across the globe

Keynote Speakers

- Kenneth Aizawa
  Professor of Philosophy
  Rutgers University, USA

- Alexander Bird
  Bertrand Russell Professor of Philosophy
  University of Cambridge, UK

- Sharon Crasnow
  Distinguished Professor Emerita of Philosophy
  Norco Colleage, USA

- Jon Williamson
  Professor of Reasoning, Inference and Scientific Method
  University of Kent, UK

- Timothy Williamson
  Wykeham Professor of Logic
  University of Oxford, UK

Contributed speakers

Alexander Belak (University of Zurich)

Peter Brössel (Ruhr-Universität Bochum)

Kevin Davey (University of Chicago)

Matteo De Benedetto (Ruhr-Universität Bochum)

Thodoris Dimitrakos (University of Patras)

Strahinja Đorđević (University of Belgrade)

Bixin Guo (University of Pittsburgh)

Bada Kim (University of Kansas)

Christos Kyriacou (University of Cyprus)

Hanti Lin (University of California, Davis)

Siddharth Muthukrishnan (University of Pittsburgh)

Jun Ostuka (Kyoto University)

Jelena Pavličić (University of Belgrade)

Seoyeon Park (University of Pittsburgh)

Elena Popa (Jagiellonian University)

Annika Schuster (TU Dortmund University)

Elay Shech (Auburn University)

Frauke Stoll (TU Dortmund University)

Valentin Teillet (École des hautes études en sciences sociales)

Daria Zakharova (LSE)

To register, please click here.