

Philosophy of Science and Epistemology

27 – 29 June 2024

Room 2503, Academic Building
HKUST

This conference aims to explore fruitful ways of integrating philosophy of science and epistemology by promoting dialogues between philosophers of science and epistemologists.

Featuring 24 talks by leading epistemologists and philosophers of science from 12 countries across the globe

Keynote Speakers

- Kenneth Aizawa
Professor of Philosophy
Rutgers University, USA
- Alexander Bird
Bertrand Russell Professor of Philosophy
University of Cambridge, UK
- Sharon Crasnow
Distinguished Professor Emerita of Philosophy
Norco College, USA
- Jon Williamson
Professor of Reasoning, Inference and Scientific Method
University of Kent, UK
- Timothy Williamson
Wykeham Professor of Logic
University of Oxford, UK

Contributed speakers

Alexander Belak (University of Zurich, Switzerland)
Peter Brössel (Ruhr-Universität Bochum, Germany)
Kevin Davey (University of Chicago, USA)
Matteo De Benedetto (Ruhr-Universität Bochum, Germany)
Thodoris Dimitrakos (University of Patras, Greece)
Strahinja Đorđević (University of Belgrade, Serbia)
Rena Goldstein (Flagler College USA)
Bixin Guo (University of Pittsburgh, USA)
Maciej Jarzębski (Jagiellonian University, Poland)
Christos Kyriacou (University of Cyprus, Cyprus)
Hanti Lin (University of California, Davis, USA)
Siddharth Muthukrishnan (University of Pittsburgh, USA)
Jun Ostuka (Kyoto University, Japan)
Jelena Pavličić (University of Belgrade, Serbia)
Seoyeon Park (University of Pittsburgh, USA)
Elena Popa (Jagiellonian University, Poland)
Stathis Psillos (University of Athens, Greece)
Tianqin Ren (University of Missouri, USA)
Annika Schuster (TU Dortmund University, Germany)
Elay Shech (Auburn University, USA)
Daria Zakharova (London School of Economics, UK)